Take My Word For It!

By FRANK COLBY

PRACTICAL ENGLISH

Q.—Why don't you use your influence to stamp out the erroneous use of "the reason why"?
A.—That "the reason why" is incorrect is superfluous and nothing more. We find the phrase in the best literature. In the 1920s, Tom Brown wrote:
I do not love thee, Doctor Fell.
The reason why I cannot tell.
In the 1930s, Cory used the phrase in a lovely verse, Minermus in Church:
All beautiful things which we live by
Laws of time and space decay.
But oh, the very reason why
I clasp them, is because they die.
"The reason why" is no more illogical than "the place where" or "the time when."

Oil Burners

Oil burners are of vaporizing or atomizing types, depending on how oil is broken up into tiny particles for combustion. Vaporizing burners pre-mix the air and oil by means of a blower and control valves. Atomizing burners are divided into gun and rotary types; the former shooting the atomized oil vapor into the fire box, usually from the outside, while the latter is customarily installed beside the boiler base and employs a revolving disc for atomizing. One of the postwar trends in oil burners will be in the direction of smaller burners for the more efficient heating of the smallest types of houses.

Refrigeration Important

One authority estimates at least 77 per cent of the food eaten by the average American family involves the use of refrigeration or air conditioning, or both, for processing, preserving or distribution. The average diet on which the computation was based includes dairy products, cereals, meats, poultry, fats and oils, fresh and canned fruits and fresh and canned vegetables. Refrigeration is vital in the production of new dehydrated and frozen foods, is used in upward of 6,000 locker plants throughout the country, and in countless other ways, including farm freezers and home storage cabinets.

Five more divisions get orders to return to United States.

Arab League

In varying degrees, the members of the Arab League share the common characteristics of the general characteristics of their part of the world. With the exception of the rugged, yet often fertile Lebanon, and, to some extent, highland Yemen, all hold large desert-plateau areas. The countries are all chiefly agricultural, with more or less pastoral activity. Products are generally similar, including cereals and fruits, cotton, tobacco, olive oil, silk and skins, and such ancient handicraft work as carpets, textiles, jewelry, and pottery. Modern petroleum wealth in Saudi Arabia, Iraq, and Egypt, is a significant factor in the economy of this part of the Near East, as well as in international trade complications.

Skinner in Last War Is Sorry He Saved Doenitz

NEW ORLEANS.—British-born Capt. William H. John admiral made a mistake in the First World War when his convoy ship, H.S.S. Snapdragon, rescued Adm. Karl Doenitz, then commander of a submarine and now foe of Germany. "I should have killed him right then and there," said Captain John, now a U.S. citizen. "He was very arrogant, and was very much insulted because we had sunk his submarine."

British Troops Grab Japanese Equipment

CALCUTTA.—British 14th army troops mopping up the scores of thousands of Jap soldiers to tend for themselves in Burma have captured enemy guns and equipment at Tetanama, 27 miles south of Minbu, a communiqué said. Minbu is on the Irrawaddy river, 250 miles above the captured capital of Rangoon.

NEEDN'T "SCHIES" because she is the shortest. As an agent of the woman-manned British Navy boat, she makes a big leap ashore to tie up at the pier. She is a member of the "Wrens" (Women's Royal Naval Service) and is now up to 60 ft. long in British war harbors. In all theaters they take mail and stores to warships and bring sailors in close to leave.

Wounded Vets Urge increased Production in the Woods

Wounded overseas veterans now are touring Virginia with an Army "Wood for War" Combat Team in an effort to increase production of pulpwood, lumber and other forest products needed to lick the Japs. Left, Burdette Napier of East Lynn, W. Va., who lost his right arm hitting a Jap grenade from a Luson tank; points to poster urging increased production. Others are, left to right, Sgt. Clifford D. Collins of Greenville, S. C.; Pfc. Arthur D. Whitely of Coalinga, Va., and Pfc. Paul S. Sullivan of Petersburg, Va.

AND NOW TOMORROW

These French prisoners of war are all smiles as they look at their homeland during a stopover on the train trip from Germany to France. Some of them were in France in five years, but this year they will be able to help their country celebrate Bastille Day (July 14, France's Fourth of July). Although the celebration, because of food and transportation difficulties, will be somewhat watered down, it will be the first Bastille Day without Germans since 1939.

COOKED A FINE DINNER; THEN THREW IT TO DOG

One lady recently stated that she used to throw her own dinner to the dog most of the time. It made her sick just to look at anything to eat. She was swollen with gas, full of bloating, had headaches, felt worn out and was badly constipated. Finally she got EIB-HELP, and says she now eats everything in sight and digests it perfectly. Bowels are regular and normal. She is enjoying life once more and feels like a whole other woman, since taking this New Compound.

EIB-HELP contains 42 Great Herbs; they cleanse bowels, clear gas from stomach, act on sluggish liver and kidneys. Miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go on suffering! Get EIB-HELP. Sold by All Drug Stores in Appomattox County.
